Risk and Release Form

Risk Agreement

All sports including curling have risks. The risks and hazards of curling can be severe resulting from accidental contact with another player, with a rock, broom or from a fall on the ice. Obviously bumping one's head or having a spinal cord or other injury can be disastrous. Some of the many potential risks, hazards or injuries are listed below:

- Slipping and falling while stepping onto the ice surface from or to the walkway;
- Being struck by a broom, brush or curling stone;
- Falling because of slippery ice, or uneven or irregular surfaces;
- Falling while delivering the curling stone, skipping or sweeping;
- Physical contact with other participants, spectators, or equipment:
- Running or sliding on the ice surface;
- Strenuous cardiovascular workouts and demanding physical techniques such as sweeping;
- Exerting and stretching various muscle groups;
- Failure to use one's equipment properly or mechanical failure of one's equipment.

Furthermore:

- A safe practices information guide is available recommending the techniques and available equipment to protect myself and reduce the risk of injury to myself and others while enjoying the sport. A helmet or curling "halo" provides an added level of safety for new and experienced curlers. We require curlers with running shoes to have a gripper on each foot when not delivering a stone.
- The risk of injury is reduced if one follows all rules and safe practices established for participation.
- The risk of injury increases as one becomes fatigued or abilities are impaired for any reason.

BY COMPLETING FORM I AGREE TO BE RESPONSIBLE FOR MYSELF (OR FOR MY CURLER 18 YEARS OF AGE OR YOUNGER)

I am participating voluntarily in the sport of curling. I agree there are risks in curling. By participating voluntarily in curling, I am exposed to these risks and hazards. I agree to accept these risks and be responsible for any injury or other loss that I might receive while participating in curling. If something happens to me (or my curler 18 years of age or younger), I release the organizers from any claims, demands, actions and costs which might arise out of my participation. In this agreement, I understand 'organizers' to mean the Cookstown Curling Club and its directors, officers, committee members, members, employees, coaches, volunteers, officials, participants, agents, sponsors, owners/operators of the facility, and representatives. I further agree to be responsible for any damages incurred to the equipment and premises during our use and will be responsible for payment to repair any such damages. It is also understood and agreed that the Club will not be held responsible for property, personal or otherwise left on the premises.

Release Agreement

I also agree my personal information is true and may be used for the purposes of communication by the Cookstown Curling Club. I acknowledge members of the club will have access to use this information to contact me. I agree for any photos taken of me be used for the club and may be release on the website, social media and news media.
